

Atrophic lichen planus is characterized by a few lesions, which are often the resolution of annular or hypertrophic lesions