

Over time, hemangiomas may involute. In some cases, surgery or laser treatment may be necessary. Beta-blockers and corticosteroids have also been reported to be effective in some cases.