

Degas Syndrome

Degos had initially described ~~granular epidermal (MAE)~~ for these lesions to emphasize 'drops of iron'

Histopathology

. The classic lesion shows a wedge-shaped area of altered dermis covered by atr infiltrate may be seen, although the dermis is largely acellular. Typically, vascular damage is noted in the Pathogenesis .

□

The etiology of Degos' syndrome is unclear. The findings have been ascribed to