□□□□□□□□ In the name of God the Merciful

To each student aware of or interested in skin diseases, I dedicate my website which took two years of my time to collect the information in it and arrange them and then connect them with some clinical and pathological images plus modern theory information out of the best references in the dermatology which turns up to huge reference which sings for mobility between sites and atlases and references which I think is the shortest route to success in the tests, for both medical students or graduate studies, which rely on theoretical information from a new reference then practical test shows how to apply clinical scan and dealing with the patient, then a practical test depends on the diagnostic of images of disease thru exposure display device or your computer and then come the Histopathology test by developing diagnosis for diseases thru segments under microscopes and then followed by oral testing.

You may be surprised dear colleague that the number of pictures diseases collected from the sites and e-books may exceeded 50000 image which is an old hobby supported me in my career as a specialist doctor in dermatology.

Unfortunately, my attempts to enter the Guinness Book of Records for the greatest album of the printed images of skin diseases has failed due to their lack of records related to medical topics and because if they apply this topic they might open a wide door which will be hard to close.

I have translated these diseases to Arabic language in accordance with the Arabic Language Academy and I have put these names as key words in the site so that my friends and my colleagues in Syria,

Arabic students which I am proud to be one of them, can be able to have access to their □ wish whether by searching this site in Arabic or English.

The rest of the theoretical information has remained in English language due to translation and information update is a challenge and needs to have free time and specialized organizations in translating medical sciences and updating these information, where the translated books loses their value when there are new editions available□

In the end, I wish you luck and I hope from Almighty God that my work will become a benefit to everyone.
